Dear Parents,

Greetings from Vels Vidyashram!

Amidst the battle against Covid 19, I wish you and your family health and safety. As much as we are eager to see our kids back at school, their safety and health is our utmost priority. I am happy that together, we are pioneering in the use of edu-techs. The tireless effort that our teachers endure to ensure uninterrupted online education to our students is only complete when you provide children with good study environment at home and keep a track on their attentiveness to online classes. Our staffs are delivering books to students. My salute to all our parents for rising up strong. To mark the beginning of the new academic year, lets pray to the almighty to give us the strength to restore a healthy and peaceful schooling experience back to our kids. Let us prove our strength, like always.

Best Wishes
